

Mid-Eastern Group Bivouac 2007

Camp Wakpominee

9 - 11 March

ABOUT THE BIVOUAC

The Mideastern Group is proud to announce their annual winter bivouac. This year, the MEG bivouac is expanding to provide two schools for cadets, a basic and advanced. The basic school teaches fundamental survival and SAR techniques. The advanced school assumes that you already have that knowledge and will embark on higher levels of training in more difficult areas.

WHERE

Camp Wakpominee

185 Slypond Road

Fort Ann, N.Y., 12827

<http://www.wakpominee.org/camp/>

WHEN

9 - 11 March 2007. Advanced School drop off at 1700 and basic school at 1800 on 9 March. Pick-up 1200 on 11 March. All staff and senior members should plan to arrive earlier and depart later than these times.

COST

$20. This cost covers two breakfasts and one dinner (Saturday night). This also covers special training supplies. All other materials should be purchased prior to the bivouac.

EQUIPMENT NEEDED

All 24 hour and 72 hour packs. Additional winter weather gear and clothing is advised. Gear list attached. Make sure that you carefully read what is needed and recommended. Do not over pack because you will be expected to carry your gear throughout the bivouac. If you do not have the required equipment, you will be sent home and lose all payments towards the bivouac.

LODGING

The basic school cadets, seniors, and many cadet staff will be spending the bivouac in a winterized lodge. The advanced school will camp outside with the advanced school instructors and senior members. Females will have separate accommodations within the cabin.

GOAL

To review and practice winter survival and basic SAR techniques.

REGISTRATION

Return application and $20 check to c/Capt. Adam Henery by 2 March 2007. Be sure to bring a CAPF 17C to the Bivouac.
